We would like to draw your attention to the fact that by enrolling in a language course, you commit yourself to

1. attending the course regularly

2. taking the examination and/or participating in any other type of evaluation set out in the course description, regardless whether you require ECTS or not.

3. doing whatever is necessary (your own work) to reach the objectives set out by the course instructor

If you do not meet these three commitments, you will neither receive an attestation nor the ECTS credits.

In the case of failure under Point 3, you have the right to re-take the examination or complete the evaluation again (in this case, you must ask the instructor for detailed information).

Diligence and regularity are conditions for success; in addition, the course given in the spring differs in its objectives from the course at the same level given in the autumn semester.

Suggestions :

- Think carefully (about your timetable and the rhythm and amount of work required) before you enroll in GESTENS for a language course.

- Remember that, after enrolling, you have a certain amount of time* to withdraw from a course via GESTENS. If you not to continue a course, withdraw via GESTENS quickly so as not to needlessly block space in the course for another student.

We hope you have a pleasant and fruitful semester in our Language Centre !
