Note: Some grants are available for students wishing to study at the University of Toronto. However there are many requests and the competition to obtain a grant is high.

Graduate Fellowships and Awards available for international students

1. The International Law Research Program (the "ILRP") Graduate Scholarship is designed to enhance research opportunities for graduate level students who wish to develop expertise in one or more of the ILRP areas of focus (international economic law, international intellectual property law, and international environmental law). This award must be applied for directly to the Centre for International Governance Innovation (CIGI), and NOT through the award application form. For more information and to apply, see the CIGI website.

2. The Nathan Strauss Q.C. Graduate Fellowship in Canadian Constitutional Law is awarded annually to a student of proven academic excellence enrolled in the LL.M. or S.J.D. programme who shows promise of completing his/her degree. The subject of the thesis should be Canadian constitutional law, focusing on any past, present or contemplated issue of significance to Canadian society.

3. The Faculty has established the Graduate Fellowships in Capital Markets Research. Fellowships will be awarded to students who have demonstrated an interest in the regulation of capital markets, including financial institution regulation, securities regulation and corporate governance.

4. The Naomi Overend Fellowship in Human Rights. This fellowship is to be awarded annually to a full-time student in the graduate programme with a focus on human rights.

5. The Centre for Innovation Law and Policy sponsors a minimum of five Graduate Fellowships in Innovation Law and Policy each year. The Centre for Innovation Law and Policy sponsors a minimum of five Graduate Fellowships each year of up to $25,000 each. See the Graduate Fellowships in Innovation Law and Policy web page for more details.

6. The Nathan Strauss Q.C. Graduate Fellowship in International Law is awarded annually to a student of proven academic excellence enrolled in the LL.M. or S.J.D. programme. Candidates will be expected to indicate the relevance to the Canadian context of their proposed subject of study.

7. The Hon. Mr. Justice Warren K. Winkler Graduate Fellowship in International Human Rights will be awarded annually to one graduate student working in the area of international human rights on the basis of financial need and academic excellence.

8. The Nathan Strauss Q.C. Graduate Fellowship in International Law and Intellectual Property, will be awarded annually to a student of proven academic excellence who shows definite promise of completing his/her degree. The thesis subject can focus on any significant past, present or contemplated issue relating to intellectual property and should include a discussion of its relevance to Canadian society.

9. The John Stransman Graduate Fellowship in Law and Economics is awarded annually to a graduate student or students working in the area of law and economics on the basis of financial need and academic excellence.

10. The Mary and Louis Anisman Fellowship in Law and Fairness. This Fellowship is available to an outstanding student pursuing a master or doctor of laws degree who writes a thesis on an aspect of the relationship between law and fairness, including fairness as a jurisprudential concept, equality as an aspect of fairness in law, fairness in the legal system (such as due process of law, administrative fairness and fairness in the legislative process).
and the effect of concepts of fairness on the development and application of specific legal norms by courts and/or legislatures (such as the doctrine of unconscionability in the law of contracts, the oppression remedy in the corporate law, the treatment of minorities or of discrimination), or an analysis of an aspect of law from the perspective of the intersection of law, mortality and fairness.

11. The Robert Law Fellowship in Legal Ethics. The fellowship is awarded annually to a graduate student or students undertaking course work or research related to legal ethics and the legal profession. Financial need and academic merit will be considered.

12. The Arthur Scace Graduate Fellowship in Tax Law, fellowships will be awarded annually to graduate students studying tax law, on the basis of academic excellence and financial need.

13. University of Toronto Fellowships are offered by the School of Graduate Studies to graduate students in either the LLM or SJD programme. The Faculty of Law allocates these scholarship funds.

14. Law Foundation Fellowships are made available from the Law Foundation of Ontario and are awarded in varying amounts to outstanding students showing high intellectual promise in either the LLM or SJD programme.

15. The Albert S. Abel Graduate Award is awarded on the basis of scholarship and financial need to a graduate student in the Faculty of Law on the recommendation of the Chairman of the Graduate Committee of the Faculty of Law.

16. The Bernard Chernos Graduate Fellowship in Law

17. The Houlden & Morawetz Graduate Scholarship is awarded to a graduate student on the basis of financial need and academic excellence.

18. The WCG Howland Graduate Fellowship is awarded each year to students in either the LLM or SJD programme on the basis of academic promise and financial need.

19. The Raoul Wallenberg Graduate Scholarship

20. Delta Kappa Gamma World Fellowships. The World Fellowship Fund was established to provide opportunities for women from foreign countries to pursue graduate studies in Canada and the United States. Eligible applicants must be female, international registered, full-time master's or doctoral students. Applicants cannot be a citizen or landed immigrant of Canada or the United States. The award value is $4,000 USD.

21. The Ontario Graduate Scholarship (OGS) program is designed to encourage excellence in graduate studies at the master's and doctoral levels. OGS is awarded for only one academic year, which can consist of two or three consecutive terms (one-term awards are not granted). OGS awards are $5,000 per term. A total of approximately 3,000 scholarships are awarded annually province-wide. Of these, approximately 20 scholarships are awarded to visa students at the University of Toronto.