“Finnish week” 7-11 November 2022

Neutrality and non-governmental Networks after the Helsinki Accords 1975-1991

Monday, November 7, 10:15 – 12:00

Miséricorde building, Room MIS03 3117 (Avenue de l’Europe 20, 1700 Fribourg)

Conférence publique de Louis Clerc (University of Turku) : La Finlande dans la Guerre froide

Public lecture (in French). A specialist in the history of Finland's international relations, Professor Louis Clerc will explain the main diplomatic and strategic stakes for Finland after the Helsinki Conference (1975) until the end of the Cold War. Mainly addressed to students, the aim is to show how Finland's international position allows not only the government and diplomatic actors, but also other actors (NGO, cities,...), to influence exchanges with the communist bloc.

Tuesday, November 8, 17:15 - 19:15, Miséricorde building, Room Jäggi (MIS04 4112)
Avenue de l’Europe 20, 1700 Fribourg

Presentation of the Mission Finland Project: Pia Koivunen and Maija Koskinen.

With two discussants from the Department of Contemporary History, University of Fribourg.

The Mission Finland project, directed by Pia Koivunen, is funded by the Academy of Finland and focuses on foreign cultural diplomacy in Finland. It was developed among other institutions in collaboration with the University of Fribourg (Prof. Matthieu Gillibert) which has a specialisation in this field. This cooperation enters a new phase with the two-month stay of researcher Maija Koskinen at the University of Fribourg. This “Finnish week” is also an opportunity to present in Switzerland the objectives of this project and the results already obtained. The originality of this approach is to understand the history of cultural diplomacy and exchanges not from a country of origin, but to analyse the impact of foreign soft power in Finland and the reception of their actions. This presentation will be discussed by two Swiss doctoral students who are working on international and cultural issues of the Cold War.

Wednesday, November 9, 17:30 – 20:30, Cinema Rex

Boulevard de Pérolles 5, 1700 Fribourg

*Public screening of Compartment No. 6 (Juho Kuosmanen, 107 min., 2021), followed by a discussion with Louis Clerc (Univ. Turku), Maija Koskinen (Univ. Helsinki), Pia Koivunen (Univ. Turku)*

Since the 1980s, Finnish cinema has extensively addressed the contradictory ties between Finland and Russia (e.g. films by Aki Kaurismäki). The recent film Compartment No. 6 also deals with this story in a train where a young Finnish woman and a young Russian man are travelling. The conference will provide an opportunity to place this film in cultural history with Maija Koskinen, former director of the Helsinki Kunsthalle, and to discuss this context with two historians specialising in Finland's international relations and cultural exchange during the Cold War.

Thursday, November 10, 17:15 – 19:15 (hybrid event)

Pérolles building, Room PER21 A120

Boulevard de Pérolles 90, 1700 Fribourg

Public roundtable on Neutral States and non-governmental Networks during the Helsinki process (1970'-1990), Pia Koivunen, Thomas Fischer, Aryo Makko

The event will be held in hybrid format per MS Teams

This roundtable compares the different trajectories of neutral countries during the last phase of the Cold War, marked by a resurgence of conflict and the collapse of the socialist bloc. Experts on the politics of neutrality, the speakers will focus on the interactions between diplomatic actors and non-governmental organisations. In particular, they will discuss the evolution of the relationship between neutral countries and the Eastern bloc until the end of the Cold War, and the impact of this period on the war in Ukraine.

Friday, November 11, 9:00 – 17:15

Pérolles building, Room PER21 A120 (hybrid event)

Boulevard de Pérolles 90, 1700 Fribourg

Workshop: Neutral States and Non-State actors and Geopolitics. New research perspectives in view of the 50th anniversary of the Helsinki Final Act (1975–2025)

The event will be held in hybrid format per MS Teams

The Conference for Security and Cooperation in Europe (CSCE) born of the Helsinki Agreements (1973-75) is often described as one of the main diplomatic achievements of the détente era, and a crucial milestone towards ending the Cold War. Yet not only diplomats played a part in the process. Non-state actors and NGOs also did their share by lobbying CSCE staff and conference attendees for human Rights and Religious Freedom violations behind the Iron Curtain or they started political discussion processes in the public sphere of their respective countries. Drawing on the most recent research on this topic (Badalassi and Snyder, The CSCE and the End of the Cold War: Diplomacy, Societies and Human Rights, 2019), this workshop aims at further exploring human rights activists involved in the Helsinki process, at the interface between the Dissent and the Western public, and between state and other private networks. The focus of this workshop is on the religion, on religious networks and actors who advocate religious freedom and human rights in the CSCE process.

A first workshop on this topic was held online in October 2021, and a first network of researchers was formed. A report on this has been published by Marie Snedker on HSozuKult<sup>1</sup>. In preparation for a larger research project and an international final conference in Helsinki in 2025, this second workshop is held in presence and partly hybrid. It focuses on the following topics: History and Networks of the Helsinki Committees and Helsinki Groups since the 1970s (in the USSR, in Central- and Eastern Europe), religious negotiation processes and controversies around Human Rights in the Helsinki, process contributions from the Neutral States and their NGOs and Religious Actors (Switzerland, Finland, Austria, Sweden, the Vatican), concepts of European Security Policy discussed by Churches, Ecumenical Organisations and other Religious Actors, “Division of Labour” between Ecumenical
