

China

08.10.2013

Study period in Shanghai during the academic year 2014/2015 at the East China University of Political Science and Law

The East China University of Political Science and Law

The East China University of Political Science and Law (ECUPL) is located in Shanghai, the economic center of the People's Republic of China. The university, founded in 1952, is the largest and most prestigious law school in the East China region. While specialized in legal education, ECUPL also offers programs in economics, foreign languages and management. The university currently has a student population of more than 10,000 including students of graduate, undergraduate, and adult programs.

Program taught in English – International Economic Law

The program is intended for non-Chinese citizens committed to career of legal practices in international investment, international trade and relevant Chinese Laws. It mainly focuses on international law, economic law in China and Chinese legal practices, in order to promote the students' abilities to deal with legal issues concerning trade and investment in China.

Courses offered in English during the autumn semester (subject to change)

Law of Contract, WTO Legal System, Chinese Legal System, Chinese Company Law and Security Law, Civil Law, Chinese Culture and Legal Culture, Basic Chinese

Courses offered in English during the spring semester (subject to change)

Intellectual Property Law in China, International Trade Law, Judicial System in China, International Investment Law, International Civil Litigation and Commercial Arbitration, Legal Chinese, Chinese Society and Economy

Chinese language program

The program provides students, no matter beginners or student with limited knowledge of Chinese, with a systematic study of general Chinese, professional Chinese, Chinese culture, cross-cultural communication.

Selection

Five places per year, based on the principle of reciprocity, are available. At the University of Fribourg, a first selection will be made by the convention co-ordinator. A definitive selection will then be made by the ECUPL.

Tuition fees

The students remain registered at the University of Fribourg during the abroad study period. They pay their regular tuition fees at the University of Fribourg. They are exempted from paying tuition fees at the host institution.

Recognition

The recognition principles decreed by the Equivalence Committee of the Faculty of Law apply for the recognition of the exams passed during the study period at the ECUPL.

Application procedure

Application deadline: 31.10.2013 (for a stay during the academic year 2014/2015)

Application file composed of:

- Pre-inscription form for conventions (available Formulaire 2014-15 - Formular 2014-2015)
- Curriculum Vitae with picture
- Statement of interest
- Provisional list of the courses you wish to follow
- Photocopy of your passport
- Photocopy of all your academic results

Application file must be sent to: International Relations Office, 20, av. de l'Europe, 1700 Fribourg

Information

Prof. Dr. Hubert Stöckli is in charge with this convention.