

Prof. Adam MARSZK

Adam Marszk holds Habilitation in Social Sciences (in the Economics and Finance discipline) (2022) and PhD in Economics (2014), completed at Gdansk University of Technology. He also holds bachelor (2009) and master (2011) degrees in finance and accounting from Warsaw School of Economics, completed with excellent grade.

Currently he is associate professor, employed since 2013 at the Faculty of Management and Economics, Gdansk University of Technology. He has authored and reviewed many publications in local and international journals (including Journal of Macroeconomics and Technological Forecasting and Social Change) focusing on financial innovations, linkages between financial markets and economy, financial systems in underdeveloped economies, economic integration, and portfolio management. The list of his coauthored book includes Exchange-Traded Funds in Europe (Academic Press, 2019), ICT-Driven Economic and Financial Development: Analyses of European Countries (Academic Press, 2019), The Emergence of ETFs in Asia-Pacific (Springer, 2019).

Within his research activity he has served as coordinator and investigator in research projects financed by national and international institutions and was the winner of the 2015 Jan Uphagen's Award for the Best Young Scientists. In 2017 he was awarded the START scholarship of the Foundation for Polish Science, and in 2019 he received distinction award from the Gdansk department of the Polish Academy of Sciences.

Since 2017 he is also CFA charterholder and member of the CFA Institute and CFA Society Poland.