"Welcome to the future"	Completely responsible for its choices and commitments and looking with confidence to the future, open to society and its socio-economic environment, the Université d'Auvergne has become a key player in the development of Auvergne and Clermont-Ferrand. Our university is a player involved in our local society, a player that listens to the needs of its partners, companies and regional governments who have been brought together in the very first French university foundation; a player offering solutions. Students are at the heart of all this; they are the focal point for all of our actions: increasing the professional focus of our curriculum, the development of research, and the extension of our international network. The Université d'Auvergne's gamble has paid off: it is more open to society and to the world. To ensure that every one of its students can consider the future as an opportunity, and to ensure that every student having chosen the Université d'Auvergne can look with serenity to the world of tomorrow and say "welcome to the future".
