

Are you in the mood to compete against Universities from all over the world and having an intercultural experience? Do you feel like learning different mediation techniques, finding solutions in commercial mediation sessions and spending a week in Paris? Then apply for the

11th ICC International Commercial Mediation Moot Court

February 4th – 10th 2016 in Paris

In this Mediation Moot Court student teams are divided into requesting party and responding party in mock mediation sessions, where individual team members act out the role of counsel and client before a mediator and two judges. Each case contains different business problems like intellectual property law, competition law, contract law etc. Depending on their strategy, the teams try to find solutions in business negotiations/mediations (in English), which satisfy their interests and concerns.
