

Mannheim, May 2014

Advertising of a Post

The Dean's office of the Department of Law of the University of Mannheim offers two doctoral positions (each TV-L E13, 50%)

as teaching assistants

Successful candidates are expected to take up their positions preferably by 1 August 2014. The positions are awarded for 2 (+ 1) years.

Assignment of duties:

- teach one or two law courses (i.e. two or four hours a week during the 14 weeks lecture period of each semester) in the field of e.g. International, European, US-American or English Law (teaching language: English)
- supervise and minister participating students
- organize, conduct, and grade tests/papers or oral exams about the course's topics

Applicants should be able to produce:

- a first or good second class Master's degree in law coupled with a good knowledge of English
- preferably teaching experience at a university

Applications comprising curriculum vitae, motivation letter and documentation of academic degrees and certificates should be submitted in a single PDF. Please e-mail all documents to:

Dr. Katrin Schoppa: schoppa@uni-mannheim.de

Application deadline: 30 June 2014

The University of Mannheim is an equal opportunity employer striving to increase the proportion of female researchers and teachers. Therefore, we encourage women to apply. Disabled candidates with equivalent qualifications will receive preferential consideration. E-mail is our preferred mode of communication, however applications can as well be sent via standard mail to: Dr. Katrin Schoppa, Universität Mannheim, Abteilung Rechtswissenschaft, Schloss/Westflügel, D-68131 Mannheim, Germany.

After the application procedure, applications sent via standard mail will only be sent back if a postpaid envelope is included; otherwise they will be destroyed according to statutory provisions of data privacy law; electronic applications will be deleted.

If you have any questions please contact: Dr. Katrin Schoppa, Tel. 0049-(0)621-181-1320, schoppa@uni-mannheim.de